

Changer: Assembly Instructions

- Slide the short end tubes through the open pocket channels at each end of the changer body until all four of the L-shaped plastic corner brackets are completely exposed.

- Attach the two plastic standard clips by slipping the loop in the end of the strap over the L-shaped plastic corner brackets.

IMPORTANT: The open end of the clips must face to the outside of the changer.

- Slide the long side tubes through the open pocket channels on each side of the changer body. While sliding the tubes through these sides you will need to attach the two plastic slotted clips by slipping the tube through the loops in the end of the straps.

IMPORTANT: The open end of the clips must face the outside of the changer.

- Insert the long side tubes into the L-shaped plastic corners on the short side tubes. Ensure the pop-up pins in the long side tubes are correctly engaged in the plastic corners. Fold the velcro flaps over to cover the tube end.

WARNING: Make sure that all of the tubes are firmly clicked and locked into the L-shaped brackets before using the changer. Injury could result if the tubes are not correctly assembled.

- Install the changer onto the travel cot: Simply clip the slotted clips onto the shorter side top rails and standard clips onto the longer side top rails (300 mm from the edge of the top corner mould).

WARNING: Improper spacing of the standard clips could allow hazardous gaps resulting in injury.

- When not in use, the changer can easily be put into the storage position by unclipping the standard clips from the longer upper side rails and swinging the changer station to the outside of the travel cot. Then lock the changer in its storage position by clipping the standard clips onto the travel cot's leg tubes.
